BAKERIES

The history of baking in Heber extends back to the earliest pioneer days when Sarah Bond, wife of Jessie Bond, baked delicious loaves of bread in her home and sold them to appreciative friends and neighbors throughout the valley for a nickel each. However, it was about 1919 before baking became an independent, permanent business in the city with the opening of a bakery in the Jeffs Building by Namaan Wilmore. Owen Hylton was also one of the early permanent bakers in the city. Mr. Hylton, a leading confectioner, baked bread in an oven at the rear of the Jeffs Building and then sold it over the counter in his confectionary shop a few doors north.

Mr. Wilmore, a native of Eureka, learned the baking business from his family, and established his business in Heber after serving in the Navy during World War I. He occupied the Jeffs Building for two years and then moved across the street from the Tabernacle.

In 1923 Teenie Duke bought the bakery from Mr. Wilmore and operated it until 1927 when she sold it to Walter Seiter, a 20-year-old immigrant from Germany, who had learned the trade in his native land. Mr. Seiter was called to serve a mission for the Church in 1930 in Germany and sold the bakery back to Mrs. Duke who operated it until he returned in 1932, and sold it back again to Mr. Seiter. He has expanded the business considerably since then and now operates it in a new building with modern equipment.

NECESSARY EXPLANATIONS

JONATHAN M. DUKE

Jonathan Murdock Duke's Aunt Nick named him Dick, a name he was called throughout his life.

When he was a small boy he had diphtheria. His brother Archie died of the disease. The only medicine his mother had was alcohol. She would dip a piece of cracker in it and try to make them eat it. He said it was terrible.

Each child had to do his share to help with the living. Dick herded their four cows and as many more as he could get. He took them to the foothills above the cemetery. He did this until he was older and could do more work. He worked one summer for Henry McMullin's mother, who was building a hotel where Ashton's store now stands. For this work he added a room with two small rooms upstairs to their one-room home. His mother was made very bappy. He next worked for Will Clegg for lumber and added a room on the back of the house. They thought they were in heaven to have a house that the rain didn't come in.

His mother got very little help from her husband, as he had a plural wife. She washed, ironed, sewed, and anything she could do to keep her family together.

James Duke painted the stake house when it was built and Dick helped him.

He soon quit working with his pap, as they all called their father, and worked for himself. He hauled cordwood and rail-pet area on the early homes and many still standing were built or plastered by him. We lived 51 happy years before his death.
